

How to Grant Investors Access to the Investor Portal

The Financial Portal enables advisors to manage and grant access to the Investor Portal. Advisors can invite investors to view their accounts or other advisors to collaborate, improving transparency, collaboration, and efficiency. To provide access, open the Financial Portal and navigate to the Clients grid.

Select the profile of the investor or advisor you want to invite, and locate the Client Portal Info widget. Clicking the Invite button opens a window where you can choose an existing email address associated with the recipient or enter a new one. Once the correct email is selected, click Send. The widget will then update to display the status of the invitation.

The recipient will receive an email containing a Login button. By clicking this button, they are directed to the Investor Portal login page, where they must log in using the same email address that was used for the invitation. Once logged in, the recipient, whether an investor or another advisor, can securely access the Investor Portal and begin using the available features.

Once the login is completed, the Investor Portal will open, and the client will be able to access the available features and information.
